INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Members of Community Living Elgin:

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Community Living Elgin, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at March 31, 2022, and the consolidated statement of operations, consolidated statement of changes in net assets and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the organization's consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the organization as at March 31, 2022, and the consolidated results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the organization in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the organization's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the organization or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the organization's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the organization's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the organization's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the organization to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

COMMUNITY LIVING ELGIN

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

Use of Estimates

The preparation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements, and the reported amount of revenues and expenditures during the reporting period. These estimates are reviewed periodically, and, as adjustments become necessary, they are reported in excess of revenues over expenditures in the period in which they become known.

In particular, the organization uses estimates when accounting for certain items, including:

- Useful lives of tangible capital assets
- Asset impairments

STEAMR Housing

STEAMR Housing operates assisted housing projects. STEAMR is incorporated without share capital and is exempt from income tax under the Canadian Income Tax Act under section 149(1)(f) as a not-for-profit organization.

Elgin Community Resource Services

ECRS represents the operations of Elgin Community Resource Services, which include leasing of property used by Community Living Elgin. ECRS is incorporated without share capital and is exempt from income tax under the Canadian Income Tax Act under section 149(1)(f) as a not for profit organization.

Tangible Capital Assets and Amortization

Tangible capital assets are recorded at cost. The costs of repairs and replacements are charged to the Operating Fund when incurred. When an asset is sold or otherwise disposed of, the original cost and related accumulated amortization are removed from the accounts and the gain or loss is recognized in revenues over expenditures. Amortization is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. The annual amortization rates are as follows:

Buildings	30 years
Vehicles	5 years
Computers	3 years
Infrastructure	10 to 30 years
Furniture and equipment	5 years
Solar panels	20 years

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements For The Year Ended March 31, 2022

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

Replacement Reserves

Funds for replacements have been included in the fund from which allocations are made, rather than in a separate replacement reserve fund.

Revenue Recognition

The organization follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions.

Restricted contributions, including government and other funding, are deferred and recognized as revenue in the period in which the related expenses are incurred. Externally restricted contributions for tangible capital assets are deferred and recognized as revenue on the same basis as amortization is recorded.

Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received since pledges are not legally enforceable claims.

Rental revenues are recognized as revenue at the time that the properties are rented to the tenant.

Interest and other revenues are accrued and recognized as revenue at the time that they are earned.

Financial Instruments

Measurement of financial instruments

The organization initially measures its financial assets and liabilities at fair value, except for certain non-arm's length transactions.

The organization subsequently measures all its financial assets and financial liabilities at amortized cost, except for cash, which are measured at fair value.

Financial assets measured at amortized cost include accounts receivable.

Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost include accounts payable and accrued liabilities, current and long-term portions of obligations under capital leases and current and long-term portions of debt.

Impairment

Financial assets measured at cost are tested for impairment when there are indicators of impairment. The amount of the write-down is recognized in excess of revenues over expenditures. The previously recognized impairment loss may be reversed to the extent of the improvement, directly or by adjusting the allowance account, provided it is no greater than the amount that would have been reported at the date of the reversal had the impairment not been recognized previously. The amount of the reversal is recognized in excess of revenues over expenditures.
